

LOCAL WOMEN MUST GO TO PENITENTIARY

Court of Appeals Affirms Sentences Against Mrs. Lizzie Finney and Florence Turpin

Mrs. Lizzie Finney must serve five years and Miss Florence Turpin three years in the state penitentiary at Frankfort for obtaining about $19,000 from the former's mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Finney, by false pretenses.

Late Friday the Court of Appeals at Frankfort, affirmed the sentences which had been passed upon them at the trial at the last term of the Madison circuit court. The two young women have been confined in the local jail, waiting action of the state's highest court upon their appeals. It is expected that they will be taken to Frankfort within a few days to begin their sentences. A special dispatch to the Lexington Herald from Frankfort had this to say of the affirmation of the two sentences:

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—The five years penitentiary sentence given to Lizzie Finney and the three year sentence given to Florence Turpin in the Madison circuit court on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from Sarah Finney, mother-in-law of Lizzie Finney, were affirmed by the Appellate Court today.

Lizzie Finney, with the aid of Florence Turpin, is alleged to have deceived her mother-in-law regarding a secret law suit alleged to have been filed against her by Bertha Horn and thereby obtained large sums of money. The last payment which Sarah Finney testified she made to Lizzie Finney was $15,316.70. Florence Turpin, Mrs. Finney testified, was the only person that Lizzie Finney would permit in the room with her when Lizzie Finney was giving her the details of the law suit.

The record does not disclose the nature of the alleged secret law suit, but Mrs. Sarah Finney testified that Lizzie Finney told her that Mrs. Horn was trying to get her property from her and payments were made to retain attorneys to fight the suit.

The Courier-Journal says this of the case:

The court of appeals in an opinion by Judge Quinn affirmed the sentences imposed on them by the Madison circuit court.

Quoting their victim, Judge Quinn said that Lizzie Finney, who with her husband and her sister lived with Mrs. Sarah Finney, told her mother-in-law eight years ago that a secret law suit was pending against her by which she would lose both her property and her reputation.

She obtained various sums from her victim and an automobile to be used in fighting the law suit, and finally persuaded her to sell a farm and give her half the proceeds—$15,216.70.

Mrs. Lizzie Finney then left her husband and went to Akron, Ohio, to live. Later she got another $4,000.

Her husband, however, found the payments in his mother's accounts, and he learned the facts. The prosecutions followed. Mrs. Finney was sentenced to five years and Florence Turpin to three years.

Centre is Beaten by Wildcats

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 19.—Kentucky University Friday night turned the tables on Centre College in a hard-fought basketball game, winning by the score of 20 to 13. The Wildcats played at top speed from whistle to whistle and proved too strong for the Colonels.

Mayer played a brilliant game for Centre but due to close guarding was unable to get away for his usual baskets. The result of this game complicates the state intercollegiate basketball championship, Centre having beaten Kentucky in a previous game.

A dispatch from Lima said, a plane not in government service, alighted there for a short time.

Faveroll commanded the American forces in the brilliant exploit at Cantigny and had an important American contingent with him in the offensive of July 18, between Soissons and Chateau Thierry.

The railroad company has moved its small warehouse out of the way and is ready to spread the rock for continuance of the street straight to the freight depot. The L. & N. offered to co-operate with the city to open up a straight thoroughfare to the depot and its offer was gladly accepted.

NEW ASSEMBLY HALL AT MADISON HIGH

Will Be Built if County Obtains Walters Fund—Board Making Year's Plans

Madison county's new County Board of Education will be formally organized the first Saturday in March, it was decided at a meeting of the retiring board Friday. Dr. J. H. Rutledge, of White Hall, the new member, met with the board which was afterwards entertained at dinner by County Superintendent Ben F. Edwards, at his home. The two old board members who retired were Messrs. W. R. Hayden and W. A. Arbuckle. The former has been a member of the county board since it was first organized. The new board will consist of five members, under the new school law, one less than at present. Besides Dr. Rutledge, the members are R. O. Moberly, Balis Wilson, J. F. Hord and A. J. Million.

No action has as yet been taken in regard to selection of the County Superintendent of Schools for the next four years. Under the new school law, the Superintendent's office has been taken out of politics by making the selection in the hands of the County Board of Education, and providing that a Superintendent may be chosen anywhere the Board may be able to find a competent man. Supt. Edwards says that unless the salary of the office is raised considerably over the present sum, he will not be an applicant for appointment. The salary is now $1,250 a year. State Superintendent Colvin has recommended in some places that in order to obtain the very highest type of educator for a county superintendency a salary as high as $5,000 a year should be paid. However, the local board has not yet considered that proposition. It is understood.

The board took cognizance of the suit which has been filed in its behalf to obtain the use of the Walters' Fund for county school purposes. It was decided, that in the event the suit is finally decided in its favor, that the fund will be used for building an assembly hall and auditorium at the Madison High School building. This is badly needed and will be a decided step forward toward building up the great county high school, which is now being firmly established here.

There will be a number of new buildings erected for the country schools during the coming year. New houses are to be built at Red House, White Hall, Cane Spring, and Forest Hill and additions to the Waco High School and the Bearwallow school.

LOVELY LITTLE CHILD DIES AT BRASSFIELD

Just at the close of day, Friday evening, February 18th, little Lucy B. Johnson, aged 10 years, went to her heavenly home to live with Him who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of God." For many months she lingered and suffered with tuberculosis at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Johnson, at Brassfield, when the Angel Death took her where suffering will be no more. She was a favorite in the family, as well as with a large circle of playmates and friends and perhaps no one ever received more of constant affection and her going away leaves an aching void. Surviving her are the father and mother, four sisters, Mrs. S. P. Redmon, Mrs. John Turpin, Misses Annie and Lucille Johnson, and six brothers, J. P. Scott, Charles, Ernest, Jack and Lawrence.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church at Viney Fork, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, interment in the family burying ground.

"God's finger touched here and she slept; While they who loved her watched and wept."

WILSON WILL HAVE LUNCH FOR HARDING

Washington, Feb. 19.—The White House luncheon has been abolished along with the other inaugural ceremonies. This became known when President-elect Warren G. Harding, in a letter to President Wilson, requested that luncheon be provided only for his immediate family March 4. Heretofore it has been the custom for several hundred guests to be invited to the White House luncheon, which took place in the state dining room and was quite as much of a function as the inauguration ball.

Great quantities of salad and punch were provided. All luncheon all proceeded to a stand in front of the White House to view the parade. All of which, in the Harding simplicity, is to be no more.

President-elect Harding's letter was in reply to a cordial note from President Wilson stating it would give Mrs. Wilson and himself great pleasure to have luncheon prepared for any number of persons the next executive might designate.

Senator Harding closed his letter by congratulating Mr. Wilson on his rapid progress toward a complete recovery, and that he is able to attend the theater.

It has not been decided whether or not President Wilson will ride with Mr. Harding to the capitol. But it is expected, however, that he will spend practically the entire morning in the president's room at the capitol signing bills.

SHIPPING BOARD PROBE IS ENDED

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—The congressional investigation of the Shipping Board ended today with the examination of Secretary Payne, former chairman of the Board. R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, today again denied charges of irregularities on his part. A. M. Fisher, investigator for the committee, another witness, exonerated Bolling. He declared a searching investigation had convinced him there was nothing irregular about the private business transactions between Bolling and Tucker T. Sands, former Washington bank cashier, which was aired several months ago. A report on the investigation will be made to the House before March 4th.

Why Didn't He Use a Lizzie?

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 19.—At the request of Henry Ford, Detroit police began to drag River Rouge in their search for Mr. Henry Potter, editor of the American Publishing Association of Philadelphia, who is missing following his visit here to interview Mr. Ford. It is believed he may have fallen through the ice in the river in an attempt to reach the Ford estate. Mr. Potter has been missing since Sunday, when he made an ineffectual attempt to see Mr. Ford at Dearborn. Denied entrance to the Ford company property by guards according to Ford employees, Potter remarked that he would "get to Henry Ford if he had to swim the river."

GRAND JURY SENDS IN FIVE MORE TRUE BILLS

And Then Adjourns, But Circuit Court Has More Criminal Work Ahead

Returning five more indictments into circuit court, the grand jury was finally discharged by Judge Shackelford. Further developments in the upturning of crime in Madison may be expected as circuit court proceeds with its two weeks' more time. Judge Shackelford appears determined to do what he and his court can to make Madison a law abiding community.

The additional indictments returned by the grand jury were one each for the following offenses: Deserving infant child, grand larceny, speeding on highway, selling liquor to minor, and having liquor in possession for purpose of sale.

Circuit court has been busy on civil cases the greater part of last week. There will be many criminal cases up for trial the last two weeks of court, however. In the case of Lonnie Abrams and Alvin Azbill against Lyons and Durham, the jury found for the defendants in full.

In the case of J. B. Colt Co., against C. B. Wills, over a contract for a lighting plant, the jury found for Mr. Wills. A similar suit by the Colt Co. against Chas. Cotton was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. Motions for new trials were filed by the lawyers in both of the above cases.

Peremptory instructions were given in favor of the defendant, in the case of A. C. Reid against the L. & N. railroad company. Reid had an auto to stop on the railroad track with the result that it was struck by a train and badly damaged.

In the case of John Burton against J. E. Newland over a contract for side of a farm, the jury found for Newland.

The jury gave judgement for the defendant in the case of Dr. O. F. Hume against Leer and Zeigler, the suit being over medical attention given Thomas Prather, an employee of the defendants. The suit had been appealed from quarterly court.

Gasoline Burns and Car Riders Have Close Call

Harrodsburg, Ky., Feb. 18—Robert Hughes, of Braxton, Mercer county, is in the hospital here as the result of an unusual accident. He was carrying two passengers in his automobile and was attempting to renew the supply of gasoline from a five-gallon can when it ignited and flames burst up into his face, burning it almost a crisp. One of his hands was also badly burned. The gasoline fumes under the top of the car ignited. The passengers, a man and a woman, jumped for their lives, but not before the hats of both were consumed on their heads. All the upholstery was burned out of the car. Mr. Hughes thinks his engine was overheated and this caused the gasoline to take fire. Henry Comingo's left hand was cut off at the wrist. He was helping his neighbor, James Walter, shred some fodder when his hand was drawn into the machinery. He is in the hospital here.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 19—Bronco Busters of the northern Rocky Mountain states are about to go out of business, according to reports from officials of wild west and frontier shows. The reason is there aren't any wild horses to bust. At least not around Wyoming and this part of the country.

But down on the San Carlos have wild horses to eat. There are 10,000 of them. They belong to the San Carlos Indians, who have a reservation not far from Globe. But there isn't much chance of getting the Arizona ponies for the broncho busters of Wyoming for the Indians won't give them up.

The day of wild herds of horses roaming the plains of Wyoming and adjacent states has been growing rapidly shorter with the encroachment of civilization. More and more ranches are being fenced in, herds of cattle are reduced or confined and to make the worse for the existence of the wild steeds, oil drilling camps have been extended over wide areas of Wyoming, northwestern Colorado and Utah.

But down on the San Carlos Indian reservation there are 10,000 wild steeds, roaming at will over the fields, destroying mile after mile of grazing land which might be put into good use for cattle and turning green grass of the prairie into a scrawny covering for their bones which hardly make even a decent meal for an Indian.

The cattlemen have tried to buy them, but the Indians would not listen. The government, thru A. H. Symonds, Indian agent, offered to purchase them at about $6 a head, invest the money into cattle and save the meat from the horses, giving it back to the Indians for winter food.

But the Indians would have none of it. The horses are worthless, even for hides. They cannot be domesticated and the meat isn't much of a delicacy, but the Indians insist on their age old prerogative to have their herds out on the open prairie even as their fathers did. The Indians also have about 2,000 wild burros which they say they will keep.

SUFFERED SIX YEARS

Mrs. Stoll Tells Women
How She Found Relief
From Pain

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unfit to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took the medicine with satisfactory results. I am a widow and recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and my daughters."

It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative. Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and if there is any complication write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about her health.

Monday Thursday night.

Mrs. Willard Sharp has returned from a visit to friends in Irvine.

Miss Francis Haukin, of Shelbyville, is the guest of Miss Zerkla Baxter, who is at home for the week-end.

Mrs. Brutus White spent the week with her daughters, Mrs. Irvine White and Mrs. Burton Roberts, and attended the Ainslie meeting.

Dr. Peter Ainslie left Saturday for Danville. He will also deliver an address in Paris before returning to Baltimore.

A banquet will be given March 1, by the fathers and sons of Lancaster and Garrard county. A splendid program is being arranged. The purpose of the banquet is to foster companionship.

Elijah Baker, of near Nina, this county, died of asthma, aged 56. His widow and several children survive him.

ANNUAL LEGION MEETING SEPT. 2-3

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 19.—The annual meeting of the American Legion, Department of Kentucky, will be held in Lexington September 2 and 3, it was announced at state headquarters here. It is possible the convention may convene September 1, depending on the wishes of Lexington, according to Adjutant Stephen Jones. "If that city wishes a parade and a 'regular whoop'er up,'" said Adjutant Jones, "we will start business September 1 and then devote Saturday, September 3, to a parade."

A state committee composed of D. A. Sachs, chairman; Emmett O'Neal and Adjutant Jones has been appointed to formulate the program. Lexington Post No. 8 has appointed a committee headed by J. A. Milton to co-operate with the state committee and to ascertain from the civic organizations of Lexington their wishes and plans regarding the convention.

It is the plan of the state headquarters to run a convention special through central and eastern Kentucky the latter part of May to arouse interest in the state convention and the legion generally. A party composed of State Commander Gordon, Adjutant Jones, members of the national executive committee, district committeemen and newspaper men will leave Louisville probably during the last week in May, and visit upward of a score of posts in a week. Post commanders will be asked to call special meetings to receive the officials.

A coroner's jury at the inquest here returned a verdict of death by poisoning, after an autopsy conducted at Lexington by Dr. Amys. Welch is survived by two small children, and his widow.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weak, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag."

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good."

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did. I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

IN THE MOVIES

Many thousands of dollars were added to the cost of producing "West is West," starring Harry Carey, coming to the local theatres today, which Universal must charge up to the account of pioneering. About 12,000 feet of film were "shot" a quarter of a mile and more below the earth's surface, and there atmospheric conditions hitherto unknown were met with. As a result, when the company of forty people returned to Universal City after a three weeks' stay in Jerome, Arizona, it was discovered that part of the company had to return to the mining district to retake many of the underground scenes. Owing to static conditions in the mine the negative, when developed, showed quite a number of "star spots" and rain "stripes."

"Which is all very well if you are filming a patriotic story—these stars and stripes," said Harry Carey, "but darn if they'll do this stuff." Only a dozen of

School Superintendent Quits Position To Play Ball

Chicago, Feb. 19.—A superintendent of the public schools is to desert his position and answer the call of the major league diamond. P. Jergensen, head of the public schools of Guttenberg, Iowa, is the man who has forsaken the school house for the baseball field. Jergensen has signed to pitch for the Chicago White Sox, and will leave Chicago the latter part of February in advance squad of battery men, for Waxahachie, Texas, the training camp of the club. Numerous college players have come into the major leagues, some signing contracts before their education was completed. But this is the first instance where a college man, after ascending to the position of head of the public schools was willing to sacrifice his position to play baseball.

Jergensen throws right-handed but at the plate he bats either right or left-handed. His batting average for last season was near the 400 mark. He is 5 feet, 9 inches tall, and weighs about 155 pounds.

ATTENTION TOBACCO GROWERS

PLACE ORDERS FOR TOBACCO SEED NOW

The blight wildflower or rust which destroyed so many crops of tobacco last season and so seriously injured many more, has caused a great money loss to the farmers and will cause many who wish to escape or minimize as far as possible this danger in 1921, to consider the quality of the tobacco seed which they will sow this year, if it is determined to sow any, and to inquire carefully as to when, where and by whom the same was produced.

No one seems to know the source or cause of this disease. Some contend that it was produced entirely by weather conditions and that the disease is not transmitted from the plant to its seed, while others believe that whatever may be the source or cause of the disease it may be so transmitted. Therefore, in order to avoid as far as possible the risk of the same trouble in the 1921 crop, all farmers should avoid planting any seed harvested from any crop of tobacco raised on any field or even near any field where the disease appeared, even though in a mild form; and this for the reason that no one knows to what extent it may again appear in crops grown from such seed.

In view of these facts every farmer should try to raise his plants for this year's crop from seed produced from the 1919 crop of tobacco, and avoid, if possible, the use of any seed from the 1920 crop.

It is the "hit or miss" farmer who is willing to take the chance of using such seed.

Our advice is to sow the best seed obtainable, for it is the cheapest and best in the end, and take as little risk as possible this year.

We must admit that we do not know what caused the disease during the past year and have no theory as to how to prevent it except to use care in the selection of seed.

This disease did not appear in the 1919 crop, and therefore we think that the use of seed from the 1919 crop is safer than the seed from the 1920 crop.

It is quite likely that the seed from the 1919 crop is limited in quantity and therefore it becomes the more important for the farmers who desire such seed to secure the necessary quantities as soon as possible and before the supply is exhausted.

Among the well known and leading brands of such seed which has been tested for a number of years in the Burley district and well known throughout said section by the farmers, is "Judge's Pride," produced and sold by W. S. Judy Seed Company, of Lexington, Ky., which has made a business for a number of years of producing this well known and tested variety.

In order to avoid any danger of contributing to the recurrence of rust this company burned and destroyed all the seed produced from their 1920 crop, which was cultivated solely for the purpose of securing the seed.

They are now offering to the farmers only the seed produced from their 1919 crop, of which they have only a limited quantity left. This will go to the farmers in the nature of a "first aid," and gives them an opportunity to avoid whatever risk or loss might result from rust, and they are offering this to the farmer.

This seed was carefully grown and saved from choice stalks only, and the farmers can rest assured that the use of this seed will reduce the danger of loss from rust to the minimum.

DR. AINSIE CLOSES FINE WORK HERE

Friday night closed the series of devotional addresses at the First Christian church. For a week Dr. Ainsie has been speaking in this community meeting twice a day and has met with the most cordial response in each service. The churches of the city, led by their ministers, have all shared in the fellowship of these meetings, and it is the judgment of many that few, if any, men have ever come to Richmond who have been more helpful to the community than Dr. Ainsie. The meetings were intended to be one of devotional addresses, hence the evangelistic element has not been stressed. And yet there have been a number who have made the confession from day to day.

The churches of the city during the interim between now and Easter will quietly through their regular services reap the harvest in the way of conversions. Exceptionally large audiences heard Dr. Ainsie in each service, the Sunday night audience being the largest, perhaps ever seated in the church. That the meeting will leave a lasting impression on Richmond cannot be doubted. The coming of such a man to towns of Richmond's population is rare and his great messages cannot fail to make the work of the churches more effective.

Dr. Ainsie goes to Danville to speak Sunday and to Paris for Monday night and then back to Baltimore.

Keep Hen Confined; Give Chicks Range

Care and management of the spring crop of baby chicks on Kentucky farms can be greatly simplified by the use of coops which make it possible to keep the hen confined and allow the chicks open range, according to J. H. Bardsley, extension poultryman from the State College of Agriculture. Such coops should be similar to those used for setting hens with the exception that they should be larger. These coops should be preferably be set in a shady place in order that they may be protected from the weather.

By using a coop where the hen may be kept confined the health of the chicks will be much safer, since the mother hen cannot take them a great distance from their shelter. In addition, if she is in a coop she will be much more willing to hover them if they become chilled. The coops should be closed at night in order that the chicks may be kept in until after the heavy dew is off the grass in the morning and to prevent animals and other pests from molesting them at night.

According to the statement of poultry specialists, the wooden brooder coop will be found more satisfactory than the metal coop, since the latter becomes extremely warm during the day time and chills rapidly at night. If care is used in building the wooden coop it will be equally as easy to clean as the metal one, according to Mr. Bardsley.
